A house with a mission

Publix - a unique Europe-wide house for journalism and society.

- At Publix, we find answers to societal and technological challenges in order to strengthen civil society and our democracy.
- The media literacy of the 'editorial society' will be significantly improved.
- The (investigative) reporting on democracy-relevant topics is strengthened.
- Media diversity will be improved through investing in journalism for the common good.
- Publix is a space for editorial offices, non-profit organizations, and individuals, who are dedicated to public interest journalism, strengthening social cohesion, and advocating for freedom of information and opinion (including in the digital space).

- Publix ensures and promotes/fosters good and safe working conditions for journalists and NGO's.
- Our events and educational programs are designed to reach all of Germany – and our neighborhood in Berlin-Neukölln.
- We offer spaces for small gatherings and large conferences. For podcasts and talk shows. We hold debates, share knowledge, and create media.

A house with a strong network

Publix brings together journalistic organizations, as well as educational and research initiatives. They have permanent workspaces in the building, organize events, and share their knowledge. They include, among others:

... and many more.

Guesthouse

On the 5th floor, at the very top of the Publix building, we offer exceptional overnight accommodation in our individually furnished rooms - with fantastic views over the rooftops of Hermannstrasse, or the treetops of the park and far across the Tempelhof field. All nine rooms are an oasis of calm. They are suitable for concentrated work phases, alone or in a team. They are a great starting point for exploring the rich culture and culinary attractions in Neukölln and Kreuzberg or work appointments in the city. With the S- & U-Bahn stations within walking distance, you can also quickly reach other districts.

Two of the nine rooms are double rooms, and one of them is wheelchair accessible. All rooms have their own private bathroom/WC. A fully equipped common kitchenette is available for all guests on the floor.
