Publix – a one-of-a-kind European centre for journalism and the public sphere.

A building with a mission.

- Publix seeks to find answers to social and technological challenges to strengthen civil society and our democracy.
- In the heart of Berlin's Neukölln district, Publix is a place for editorial teams, non-profit organisations and individuals who are dedicated to independent journalism, meeting critical information needs, strengthening social cohesion and advocating freedom of information and opinion (including in the digital space).
- We want our events and education programmes to reach all of Germany - and our immediate neighbourhood here in the Berlin district of Neukölln.
- We want to make space available for small meetings and large conferences. For podcasts and talk shows. We plan to hold debates, spread knowledge and create media.

The Publix Network

At Publix in Berlin's Neukölln district, journalistic organisations are converging with education and research initiatives. They are moving into permanent workspaces in the building, where they will organise events and share their knowledge.

They include:

A building in the heart of Neukölln

On one side is the lively boulevard Hermannstrasse, on the other is the peaceful quietude of the cemetery – and right in the middle is Publix.

Our new building is located in an urban and culturally vibrant section of the Neukölln district of Berlin, and a trio of parks are within easy walking distance – Tempelhofer Feld, Anita Berber Park and Körnerpark.

Our catering facilities and our large garden offer a respite from the hustle and bustle of daily life.

People who work in the building, as well as guests and neighbours, can meet and chat here from early morning until late in the evening.

A place with ideal conditions

Whether for co-working or different event formats, Publix offers ideal conditions and an inspiring environment.

- Publix provides top-quality infrastructure for journalism, civil society work and events.
- Publix brings together a network of people who are working on vital questions facing the future of the news media and democracy.
- The building plays host to inspiring events focused on sharing knowledge and community building.
- Publix is a workshop for innovation through infrastructure, grants, funding, networking and education.
